Cynthia L. Wyngaard Educational Scholarship

Background:
Cynthia Wyngaard graduated from Kaukauna High School and called Kaukauna home for most of her life. She was an educator teaching at the junior high and college level, a registered respiratory therapist and later a research scientist for Kimberly-Clark Corporation. Cindy strongly believes that it's each individual's responsibility to set their own life goals and the path to accomplish those goals. A willingness to face whatever challenges and roadblocks one may face with determination and fortitude will bring about the accomplishments one can call their own. Through Cindy's life experiences and challenges, she was able to accomplish various careers that were important to her over her lifetime even when others believed it was beyond reach. Cindy established this scholarship to support students into perpetuity who have the desire and drive to reach their own career goals through advanced education in the face of disabilities or just everyday life challenges. For the recipient, it is her wish that this scholarship will help to open the door toward a rewarding education and successful career.
