Tammy Pethan Community Scholarship

Background:
If you were to ask, "What was important to Tammy Pethan?" the words to answer this question would be narrowed down to faith, family and community. Tammy absolutely lived her life with dedication to the important things in her life.

Tammy's devotion to her husband, Michael, and four sons, Jordan, Tyler, Preston, and Daynen, and her grandchildren brought her a tremendous amount of pride & joy. Her mother, Carol Arenz and father Jerry Arenz set a supportive foundation that helped develop the dedication and loyalty to her family and community.

Tammy believed that encouraging people to come and be active in our community would benefit the citizens, students, businesses and churches, and encourage them she did. If there was an organization that needed fundraising, publicity or manpower, she was hands on. Not only did she contribute but she spearheaded and started organizations, clubs, or fundraisers as they were needed.

Tammy also believed that all children were individuals with individual needs and talents. For this reason, she encouraged higher education in all aspects, whether a university, technical school, internship, trade school or vocational program. She believed in giving all young people the opportunity to grow their talents and interests and that they should be included in the awarding of scholarships. What better way to honor Tammy than to give back and learn to grow your community than young people learning early on how to become involved and contribute in the form of community service.
